Member guide

Three strikes. No proxies.

How to sign in, check in at a meeting in about five seconds, keep track of your strikes and ask for an excuse when you can't make it.

1. Sign in with your SNU mail ID
2. Register your phone (once)
3. Check in at a meeting
4. See where you stand
5. Ask for an excuse
6. The rules, in one page

Screens in this guide come from the app's demo mode. Names such as Alice, Bob and Carol are sample users, not real members.

STEP 1

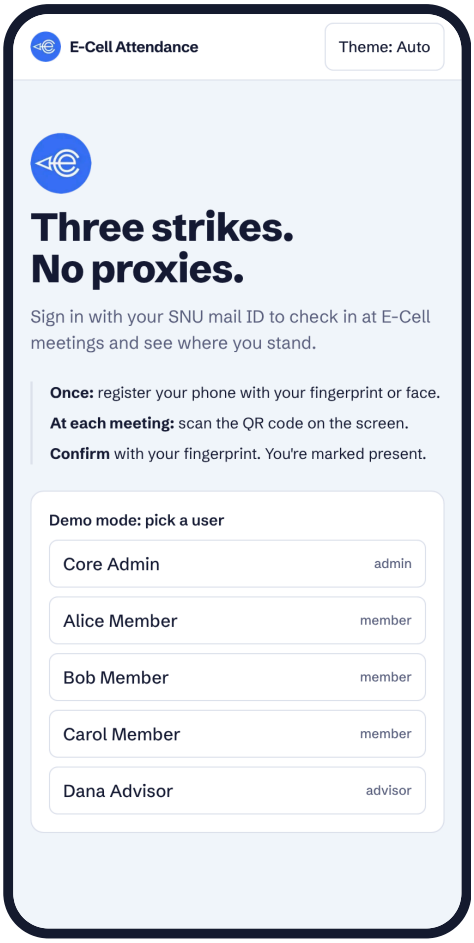

Sign in with your SNU mail ID

Open the E-Cell Attendance link on your phone and tap Continue with SNU mail ID. Use your college account, the one ending in @snu.edu.in.

Only people on the E-Cell roster can get in. If you see "That account isn't on the E-Cell members list", check you picked your SNU account, or ask a core member to add you.

> Tip: add the page to your home screen. It opens like an app, so you're not hunting for the link when a meeting starts.

In this guide's demo screens, a "pick a user" list stands in for the sign-in button.

STEP 2 · ONCE

Register your phone

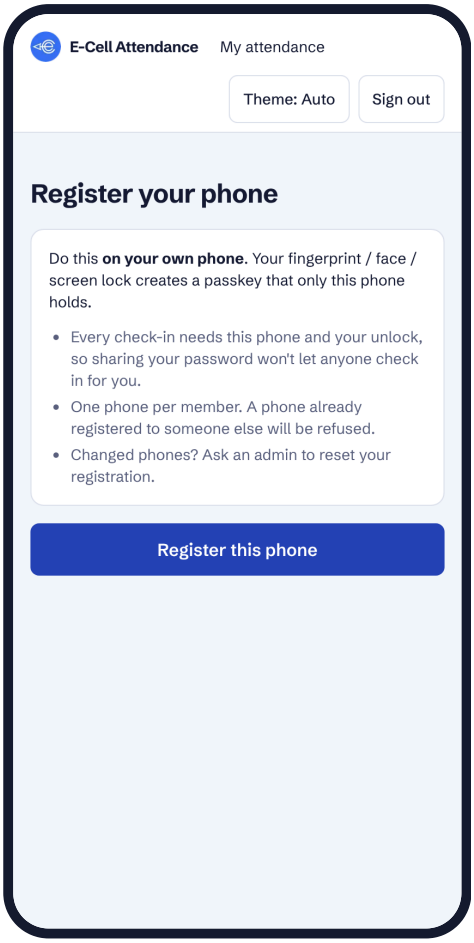

The first time you sign in, the app asks you to register your phone. Tap Register this phone and confirm with your fingerprint, face or screen lock.

This creates a passkey that lives only on your phone. From now on, every check-in needs this phone and your unlock.

Good to know

- Do this on your own phone. One phone per member: a phone already registered to someone else is refused.
- Sharing your password doesn't let anyone check in for you. They'd need your phone and your fingerprint.
- Got a new phone? Ask an admin to reset your registration, then register the new one.

When it's done you land on My attendance, with a clean slate.

Register this phone

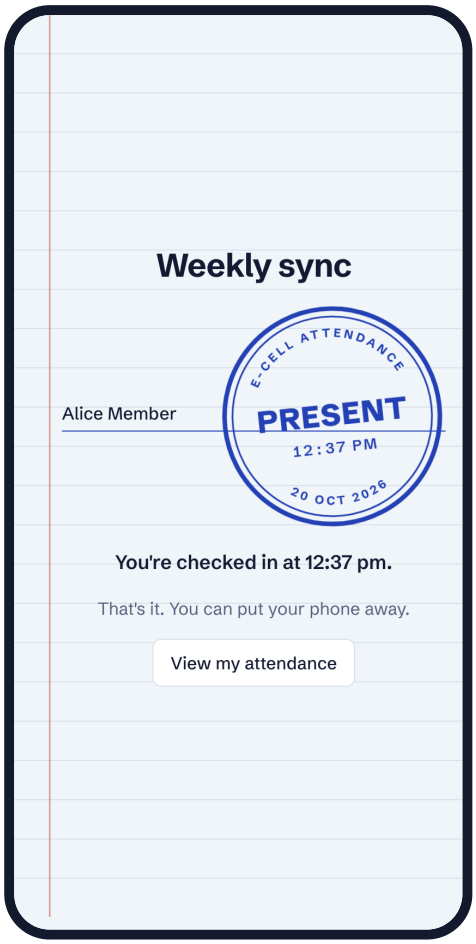

STEP 3 · EVERY MEETING

Check in at a meeting

1. A lead puts a QR code on the projector. It changes every 10 seconds.
2. Scan it with your phone's camera. The meeting opens in E-Cell Attendance.
3. Tap Check in and confirm with your fingerprint or face. You get a stamped receipt.

Scan, then tap Check in

Checked in: you can put your phone away

- Scan the screen yourself. A photo or forwarded link of the QR stops working within seconds.
- Scanned twice? No problem. The app shows your existing record; nothing changes.
- Arrived late? Check in anyway. Late is recorded, but it is not a strike.

STEP 4

See where you stand

Tap My attendance any time. You get one card per count you're part of:

- Full body for all-member meetings.
- One card for each team or group you're in (for example Marketing). Each keeps its own count.

The three circles are your strikes. A filled red circle is one unexcused absence. Next to them you see your absences, lates and excused meetings.

Below the cards is your full history: every meeting you were expected at, and whether you were present, late, absent or excused.

Strikes reset at the start of each semester.

1 strike in Full body and 1 in Marketing

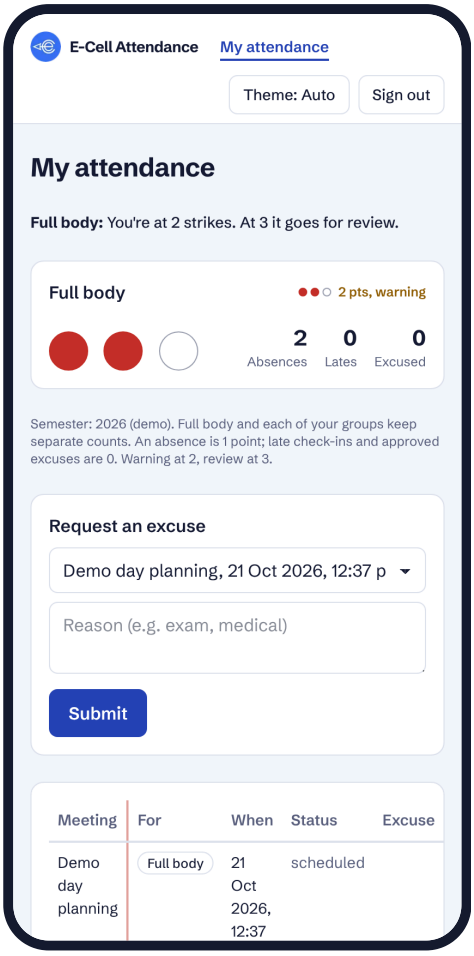

WARNINGS

When you get close to three

At 2 strikes in any count, a yellow note appears at the top of My attendance: "You're at 2 strikes. At 3 it goes for review."

At 3 strikes the note turns red and the core team is told to review it. Nothing happens automatically: admins talk it through and decide.

> If you know you'll miss a meeting, ask for an excuse (next page). An approved excuse removes the strike.

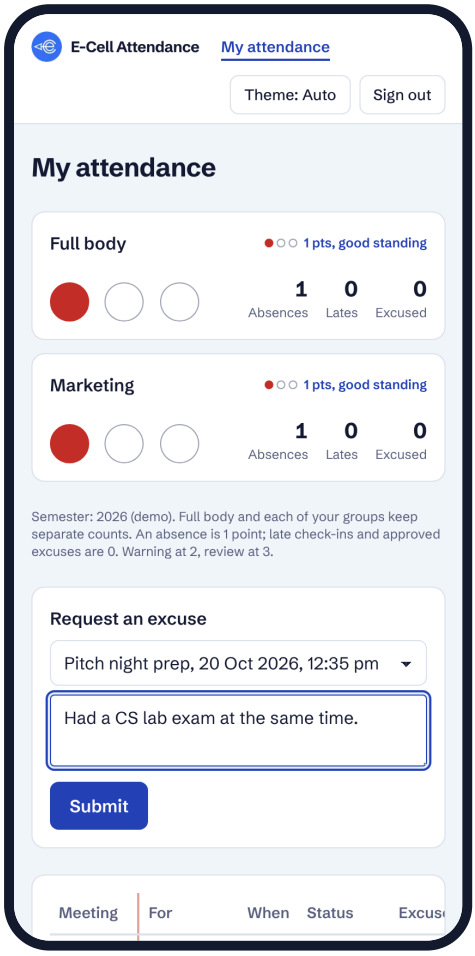

Carol is at 2 strikes in Full body

STEP 5

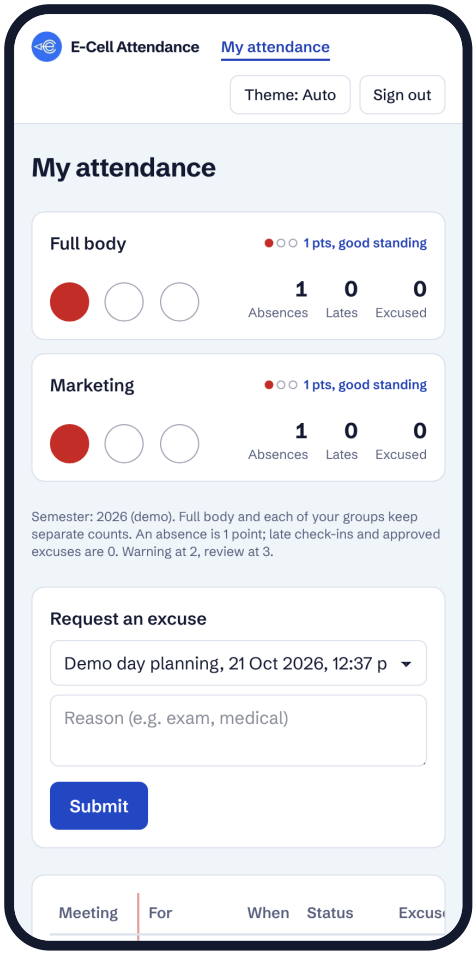

Ask for an excuse

Missed a meeting for a good reason? On My attendance, use Request an excuse:

1. Pick the meeting from the list.
2. Write a short reason (exam, medical, family...).
3. Tap Submit. Your excuse shows as pending until an admin or the meeting's lead approves or rejects it.

Choose the meeting, give a reason

The request now shows in your history

> You can ask up to 24 hours after a meeting starts. After that, talk to your lead. They can add an excuse for you.

CHEAT SHEET

The rules, in one page

What happened	What it costs
Checked in on time	0 points
Checked in late	0 points (recorded as late)
Absent, excuse approved	0 points
Absent, no excuse	1 point
2 points in a count	Warning on your page
3 points in a count	Flagged for core team review

- Full body and each group count separately, and every count resets each semester.
- You're only expected at meetings for full body and the groups you're in.

Questions

The fingerprint prompt didn't show up. Use the phone you registered, with its screen lock turned on. Still stuck? Tell your lead before the meeting ends so they can mark you in.

I changed or reset my phone. Ask an admin to reset your registration, then register again. Cleared browser data can also flag your check-in for review, so let a lead know.

Can my friend check in for me? No. Check-in needs your phone and your fingerprint, one phone checks in one person per meeting, and attempts are logged for admins.

A record looks wrong. Tell your lead. Leads and admins can correct a record, with a reason that's kept on file.
